The UKRN

The UK Regulators Network (UKRN) brings together sixteen member regulators to explore common policy areas. It seeks to implement better and more effective collaboration between regulators, to improve the coherence of regulatory policy work and share ideas for more efficient working.

The UKRN is led by the CEOs of the 16 member regulators, covering the utilities, finance and transport sectors. The UKRN is supported by a group of senior directors from across the membership, who are responsible for the delivery of the UKRN work programme and the UKRN external expert panel, who provide challenge to our work and strategic direction.

The UKRN has an exciting and challenging forward work programme, looking at improving strategic engagement between members and key stakeholder groups, working collaboratively on policy issues, where we can achieve more through working together than we can individually. We also seek to identify and implement ways that regulators can transact with one another, to improve internal efficiencies through their people and resources.

The UKRN is a team of eight colleagues made up of secondees from our members and contractors who previously worked for them. It's a small but dynamic team who have a wealth of experience to share and are looking forward to the opportunity of working with you.

More details about our work can be found on our website Home | UKRN: the UK Regulators Network
